ding Cards.

St. John's Church was well filled last night by the friends assembled to witness the marriage of Miss Mildred Hutcheson to Mr. Edward Mugge, jr., of Houston, Texas. The chancel was decked with palms and vines, and the altar vases filled with Easter Illies. The ushers, Mr. Edward Parker and Lieut. Vogelgesang, were kept busy until the arrival of the bridal party seating the guests. The tiny sister of the bride, Miss Rosalie Hutcheson, as flower bearer, led the party to the chancel. The maid of honor, Miss Maud De Witt Talmage, preced-ed the bride, who came in with her father, Representative Hutcheson. Mr. L. Parks of Houston, Texas, was best man. The youthful and pretty bride was dressed in white tulle over white satin, simply made, and she wore no ornaments. Her veil was of tulle, and her bouquet of white lilacs. The maid of bonor wore white mult, trimmed with frills of dotted white net, and carried a large bouquet of liles of the val-ley. The little flower-bearer wore a dainty frock of white mull and Valenciennes lace, and carried a basket filled with white roses. Mrs. Hutcheson wore a light Dresden-flowered silk. The three young sons completed the family circle. Vice President Stevenson was among the guests. No reception followed the ceremony, as the young couple left for New York. After a wedding trip they will go to Houston, Texas, to reside.

Mrs. David R. McKee gave a dance last night in honor of the visiting Yale Glee, Mandolin and Barjo Clubs, and invited to meet them a number of young ladies, among whom were the Misses Pauncefote, the Misses Brice, Miss Hagner, Miss Belknap, Miss Clagett, Miss Leiter, Miss Warder, Miss Steele, Miss Miles, Miss McLanahan, Miss Barney, Miss Rodgers, Miss McMillan, Miss Cockrell, Miss Anderson. Among the men present were: Messrs. De Sibour, Draper, McLanahan, Hay, Brooks, Hitt, Murphy, Kipp, Dodge, McCullough and D. McKee. All the rooms on the parlor floor gave dancing space, and supper was served upstairs. Easter lilies and palms and the Yale colors decked the house. Mrs. David R. McKee gave a dance last

Many Washington friends found in their mail this morning the announcement cards of the Harrison-Limmick wedding. This scuvenir of the interesting ocasion reads: "Mr. Benjamin Harrison and Mrs Mary Scott Dimmick announce their marriage on Monday, April 6, 1896, at Saint Thomas' Church, New York."

Mrs. Leech entertained at a breakfast yesterday in honor of the Yale visitors. Her guests were Miss Ewing of Nashville, Miss Butts of St. Louis, Miss Clagett, Miss Norris. Miss Hagner, the Misses Leech, Dr. Leiber, Lieut, Magill, Mr. Cassells, Mr. Slade and Mr. Baird of New York, and Mr. Ledyard. Miss Genevieve Mattingly gave a tea vesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Eleanor Nicholson of Philadelphia, who is visiting the Mattingly home for the Easter vacation. Miss Mattingly, Miss Winifred Mattingly, Miss Farnesworth, Miss McComas and Miss Bessie Baker assisted in receiving the years. the young company. Mrs. and the Misses Brice sail tomorrow for England, and during their stay in London will enjoy a presentation at court at a May drawing room. They will be back in this country the latter part of June, and the family will summer at Newport, where it is understood Senator Brice has or will seem to the state of the second senator of the soon purchase the Astor villa, Beaulieu, which he occupied last summer. Mrs. Bissell, accompanied by her little daughter, arrived yesterday, and is the guests of Mrs. Carlisle. Senator and Mrs. Wolcott will give a dance tonight at the Country Club, to which a large company is invited. Mrs. Sowers gave a delightful dancing rarty last night in honor of the home coming of her son, Mr. William F. M. Sowers of Yale. A pleasant company of young cople were entertained. Representative and Mrs. Draper and the Argentine charge d'affaires and Mrs. Dominguez were among those who enter-tained at dinner last night. The Draper dinner was in honor of Yale men, and the guests were Miss Story, Miss Rodgers, Miss Hagner, Miss Ethel Horstman, the Misses Johnson, Miss Sheridan, Mr. Burton, Mr. Moore, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Brooks, Mr. Allen, Mr. Bugher and the Messrs. Draper. Mrs. Faulkner, wife of Senator Faulkner,

Mrs. Faulkner, wife of Senator Faulkner, gave a reception at her home, Boydville, Martinsburg, W. Va., last night. Among the guests were Miss Mary Jones, daughter of Senator Jones of Arkansas; Miss Nettie Bridelman of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. Conrad Syme of Washington, Miss Fannie Wheatley, Mr. Griffith Smith, Miss Lucille Fuller, Mr. C. P. Faulkner of Washington, and Miss Elsie Love of Winchester, Va., and Mr. William Sproul of Staunton, Va., who are being entertained by Misses Jane and Boydie Faulkner. The rooms were decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. Miss Laura Agnes Kinzer, formerly of Gettysburg, Pa., was married to Mr. William I. Bikle, jr., of Washington, at the rectory of St. Vincent's Catholic Church, North Front street, Baltimore, by Rev. John D. Boland, last night.

The bride wore a traveling dress of dark green diagonal cloth, with Dresden silk and spangled trimming. She carried a bunch of bride's roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Mabride's roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Mamie Twamley and Miss Anna Donohue, also were dark green dresses, trimmed with Dresden silk. Messrs. J. J. Belew and L. H. Bergman of Washington were the groomsmen. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bikle were given a wedding supper by the Sisters of Mercy at St. Vincent's Home for Girls, where Mrs. Bikle boarded for several years. The parlors and dining hall were decorated with stands of flowers and plants. In the company, which numbered about forty persons, were Miss E. A. Stratton and Mr. Teller of Washington, D. C. MAXWELL. On Sonday, April 5, 1896, at 3:45 p.m., WHLIAM H. MAXWELL, the beloved husband of Sarah E. Maxwell, in the fifty-first year of his age.

Day by day we saw him fade
And gently sink away,
And often in our hearts we prayed
That he might longer stay.
A light from our household gone,
The one we loved so well.
We have placed him in Jesus' arms
And bid him forever farewell. Had He asked as, well we know
We should say, ch, spare the blow;
Yes, with streaming eyes we would pray,
Lord, we love him, let him stay.
In peace he lived, in love he died,
His life was asked, but God denied.
BY HIS LOVING WIFE.
